The most direct route to Yogi Bear's Jellystone Park & Camp-Resort: From Highway 400, go North or South to Simcoe Rd. 88 (formerly Hwy. 88) Exit 64B (West). Go west on 88. The entrance to Jellystone Park is the first driveway on the north side of 88, just west of Hwy. 400. Look for the Park signs and banners. Highway signage on Highway 400 is restricted to camping icons before the exits. The finger signs on 400 ramps read Toronto North Campground (that's us).

FOR YOUR INFORMATION: When traveling north on Hwy. 400, you may see two camping icon signs before the Hwy. 9 exit. Do not exit. Jellystone Park is the next interchange, less than 6 miles or 10 kilometers (6 minutes) north of Hwy. 9. The Highway 9 icon signs are for seasonal parks 30-50 kilometers, 18-30 miles, 20-30 minutes, to the east and west of Hwy. 400. The exit for Yogi Bear's Jellystone Park is 64B (Simcoe Road 88, west). Just 6 minutes north at the next interchange. The two seasonal parks are in fact located on the other side of Newmarket on Highway 48 and the other side of Palgrave, west of Highway 50.

The new 407 Express Toll Route is a convenient alternative to Highway 401. To get to Jellystone Park take the 407 ETR to Highway 400 North, and continue north approximately 25 minutes. At Simcoe Rd. 88 (formerly Hwy. 88), take exit 64B (west). You will see the entrance to Jellystone Park on your right hand side, (north side). The new 407 ETR makes Yogi Bear's Jellystone Park & Camp-Resort even more convenient than ever before. To avoid toll charges use Highway 401 or other routes.

The 407 now extends west to Hamilton and east to Brock Road. Please visit the 407 website at www.407etr.com for uptodate access and rate information.
